MORE THAN JUST A JOB

Xupes is entering an exciting growth phase utilizing technology and data to redefine and transform the luxury watch market. We are looking for ambitious, passionate people who think big and have an interest in fine watches and the circular economy. Our evolving strategy is focused on standing out in our market offering the highest levels of service & integrity through a platform on which you can collect, trade, collaborate and share affection for the products we are lucky to handle.

We also operate Xupes Services, the UK's largest independent accredited Service centre. This unique part of our company means every watch we handle is serviced to manufacturer standards with an industry leading warranty, also offering us a tool in which we can educate and enrich our community of collectors and watch lovers.

Recent investment from MPN Marketplace Networks GMBH (The Parent company of Chrono24) has meant that Xupes is now well poised to take advantage of a number of exciting opportunities and developments in the years ahead.
