Xupes is one of the leading online luxury retailers of pre-owned Watches, established in 2009, Xupes has seen rapid growth with offices and retail showrooms in London & Amsterdam accompanied by an accredited service centre.

Xupes Servicing was set up in 2015 as part of the expansion of the business and specializes in repairing, servicing, and restoring all watches. We aim to deliver the highest quality and the best customer service experience.

Xupes Servicing is very excited for the next step in its growth plan and eagerly looking for new talent to complement our creative and ambitious team. As a rapidly growing business, job progression is a real opportunity. We also offer lots of perks to help keep you happy and motivated.

You will have the chance to increase your knowledge daily with working on a variety of brands, including vintage pieces. Along with this, we would like to offer training where possible and work to build individual career road paths for progression. Our current accreditations are Cartier, Omega, Panerai, IWC, Hublot, JLC and Longines.

The Servicing department will echo Xupes principles and exacting standards working to offer services to customers and the trade, matching the quality of the manufacturers. Our servicing department will relocate later this year with the long-term view to establish the company as an authorized service centre for chosen brands and grow to become a leader within this industry in the UK.
